The screenshot shows the Fuel50 Career Journeys interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'MY SUGGESTED MOVES', 'CAREER JOURNEYS', 'OUR ORGANIZATION', and 'REPORTING LINES'. Below this is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Search for roles or people in your organization'. The main content area is titled 'What else could I do?...' and features a 'FILTERS' dropdown. There are two main sections: 'PARALLEL ROLES' (VIEW ALL (124)) and 'STRETCH ROLES' (VIEW ALL (127)). The 'PARALLEL ROLES' section shows roles like 'Instructional Design Manager' (34%), 'Community Manager' (33%), 'Marketing and Events Manager' (39%), and 'Content Manager' (33%). The 'STRETCH ROLES' section shows roles like 'Senior Brand Marketing Manager' (62%), 'Director, Brand Management' (43%), and 'Senior Marketing and Events Manager' (36%). A callout box on the right says 'Easily save target roles and career paths'. Another callout box on the left says 'Filter by role availability, location or business function'. A third callout box on the left says 'View AI-powered lateral and stretch roles unique to you'. A fourth callout box on the right says 'Switch to organization view to see your vertical and lateral pathways'. The interface also shows a grid of roles at different levels (LEVEL 6, LEVEL 5, LEVEL 4) and a 'My Role' section at the bottom.

Below this is a search bar with the placeholder 'Search for roles or people in your organization'. The main content area shows a career path starting from 'Me (Brand Marketing Manager)' at Level 4 to 'Executive Director, Brand Management' at Level 5. The path is broken down into three moves: MOVE 1 (12 months, 3 actions), MOVE 2 (8 months, 7 actions), and MOVE 3 (10 months, 5 actions). A 'Skills Gap Analysis' panel on the left shows 'ESTIMATED READY TO GO' and 'ESTIMATED LEVEL UP' metrics for various skills like IT Trends, Network System Architecture, and Business Alignment. A 'Need some ideas?' section at the bottom right offers AI-driven suggestions for alternative career paths, such as 'Executive Director, Brand Management' (5 moves), 'Executive Director, Product Marketing' (2 moves), 'Director, Brand Management' (2 moves), and 'Executive Director, Chief Sales Officer' (4 moves).
